Meister Eckhart (1260-1327), a German friar, priest, mystic, and renowned preacher, was also an administrator-prior, vicar, and provincial-for his Dominican Order.

Eckhart taught the simple power of letting go and letting be. To let go is no easy task. But in any loving relationship, as we see in the Trinity, such a surrendering of unneeded boundaries is the source of joy. Eckhart puts it this way:

... the Father laughs
and gives birth to the Son.
The Son laughs back at the Father and gives birth to the Spirit.
The whole Trinity laughs
and gives birth to us.
